(back cover) Bottle Brush is one of a precious few pictures I made on a rare pleasure trip into Carlsbad. Usually, we were too busy surveying to take pictures other than very casual snapshots. This one time in 1966, photography was the mission and I got several very interesting pictures in the vicinity of the Aragonite Room in the Left Hand Tunnel.

December 2001 Issue Corrections

Page 2. The December issue is now officially known as Volume 47 Number Last, solving the numbering problem. Mark the November issue as Volume 47 Number Last-Minus-One to resolve any other numbering issues.

Before yelling, "Stop the presses," (just for fun) two-thirds of the print run had "Vy" instead of "By" in one obvious place in the table of contents.

Terri Whitfield's e-mail address (see below) does not contain the name "Terry" anywhere in it, despite the December credits box indicating so.

Page 4. Only one of the hyphenated instances of "with-in" had its hyphen removed, even though a sharp-eyed proofreader noticed both, which prompted a reader to wonder if "within" was being spelled differently to make sure it was spelled correctly at least once.

Page 17. Our apologies to Bill Mixon, who got the only copy with a "Continues on page 25" blurb (yes, there were only 24 pages and the review ended on Page 17) that went with his excellent review. Thanks also to Bill for the suggestion to run articles continuously rather than unnecessarily continuing them. -mm-

Mexican Caving 2001

A Field Guide for the Exploration of Caves of the Sierra Gorda

Review by Bill Mixon

BillMixon@worldnet.att.net

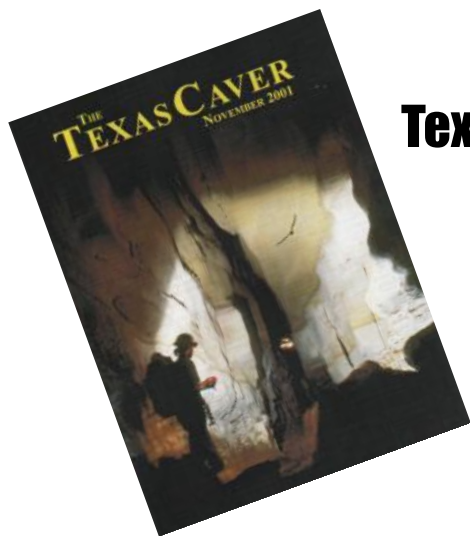

Edited by Mike Walsh and Spencer Woods. Mexican Caving 2001: A Field Guide for the Exploration of Caves of the Sierra Gorda, Austin, Texas; 2001. 8.5 by 11 inches, 149 pages, softbound. $16+$3 postage. Available from the publisher at PO Box 153034, Austin, Texas 78715.

This is an up-to-date guide to the caves of the Sierra Gorda, the Mexican caving area that contains the famous bird pits of Golondrinas, Guaguas, and Cepillo, in the vicinity of Aquismón, San Luis Potosí. It provides the touring caver with road and trail logs and current information about access to a number of caves, as well as information on local accommodations, Mexican border formalities, and so on. It is also intended to encourage new exploration in the areas opened up by recent road-building.

The book does not contain nearly as much material as the page count suggests, as only the odd-numbered pages are actually used, except for some nice cartoons by Charlie Loving. The print is large, and there is a lot of white space. It is very much a work in progress and shows some signs of hasty preparation. The October 2001 edition is already the second, and revisions with additional material are anticipated. Each edition is produced in limited numbers as bound photocopies. The resulting slightly different editions will drive librarians crazy and make it difficult to cite it in bibliographies. There is a colored map that is keyed to some of the road logs, but other logs detail areas for which there is no map. The cave-descriptions section contains descriptions of 24 caves and maps of half of them.

EDITORIAL

Knee Deep in GuanoMike Moore

This issue of THE TEXAS CAVER is something not seen in two years: a Texas cavers directory. Instrumental in the behind-the-scenes work in helping to get it out were the cavers, grottos, and organizations who shared their member lists.

There are 1,889 names of Texas cavers in this directory, with a loose definition of "Texas caver" as being anyone who at one time or another caved in Texas, or has an interest in Texas caving. For a third of those cavers we don't have their latest address, phone, and e-mail information, as the TSA hasn't been in contact with them in the last two years.

Of those 1,889 names, we know that 1,001 are NSS members because we have their NSS numbers, of which 471 paid their NSS dues in 2001. Also of those 1,889 names, we have e-mail addresses for 1,022, plus phone numbers for 1,540 cavers. More than 600 of those cavers live together, sharing phone numbers or e-mail addresses.

What aren't identified in the directory are TSA members, as this is not a TSA members manual, as people are fond of calling it. The 1999 directory was the 1999 TSA/TCR Members Manual, a different critter, with 1,376 names.

Not identifying TSA members was a deliberate decision for two reasons: there are fewer than 170 paid TSA members currently, and the database showing who is and isn't a paid member still has problems. The new officers are working to correct it and to make sure everyone missing any issues of the THE TEXAS CAVER get them.

That there are fewer than 170 paid TSA members is a problem when you consider that there are 1,889 identified Texas cavers. The TSA obviously hasn't been doing some things right in recent years to have such low membership. The new TSA officers are going to work on that, with an eye on lowering TSA dues and in making the TSA relevant to your caving experience.

The good news is that THE TEXAS CAVER is on track with issues coming out regularly and on time, so one reason not to join the TSA has been eliminated. With THE TEXAS CAVER being monthly, every issue contains the most recent caving information possible.

This January issue is meant to be kept around for a year, until another directory is published next January. It is also meant for you to carry around with you, so you can be in contact with cavers around the state as you travel.

Definitely look yourself up in this issue to make sure we have your correct mailing address, phone numbers, and e-mail addresses. Look your friends up, too, just in case they have not gotten this issue because we have their wrong information. Corrections can be sent to the TSA Secretary, Joe Ranzau, BigJoe8@hotmail.com. Look for a form on the web for address corrections, soon. -mm-

TSS Longest and Deepest Texas Caves Lists

Terry Holsinger (terry@caveresource.com) maintains the Texas Speleological Survey's list of the longest and deepest surveyed caves in Texas, those more than 100 meters in length or 23 meters in depth.

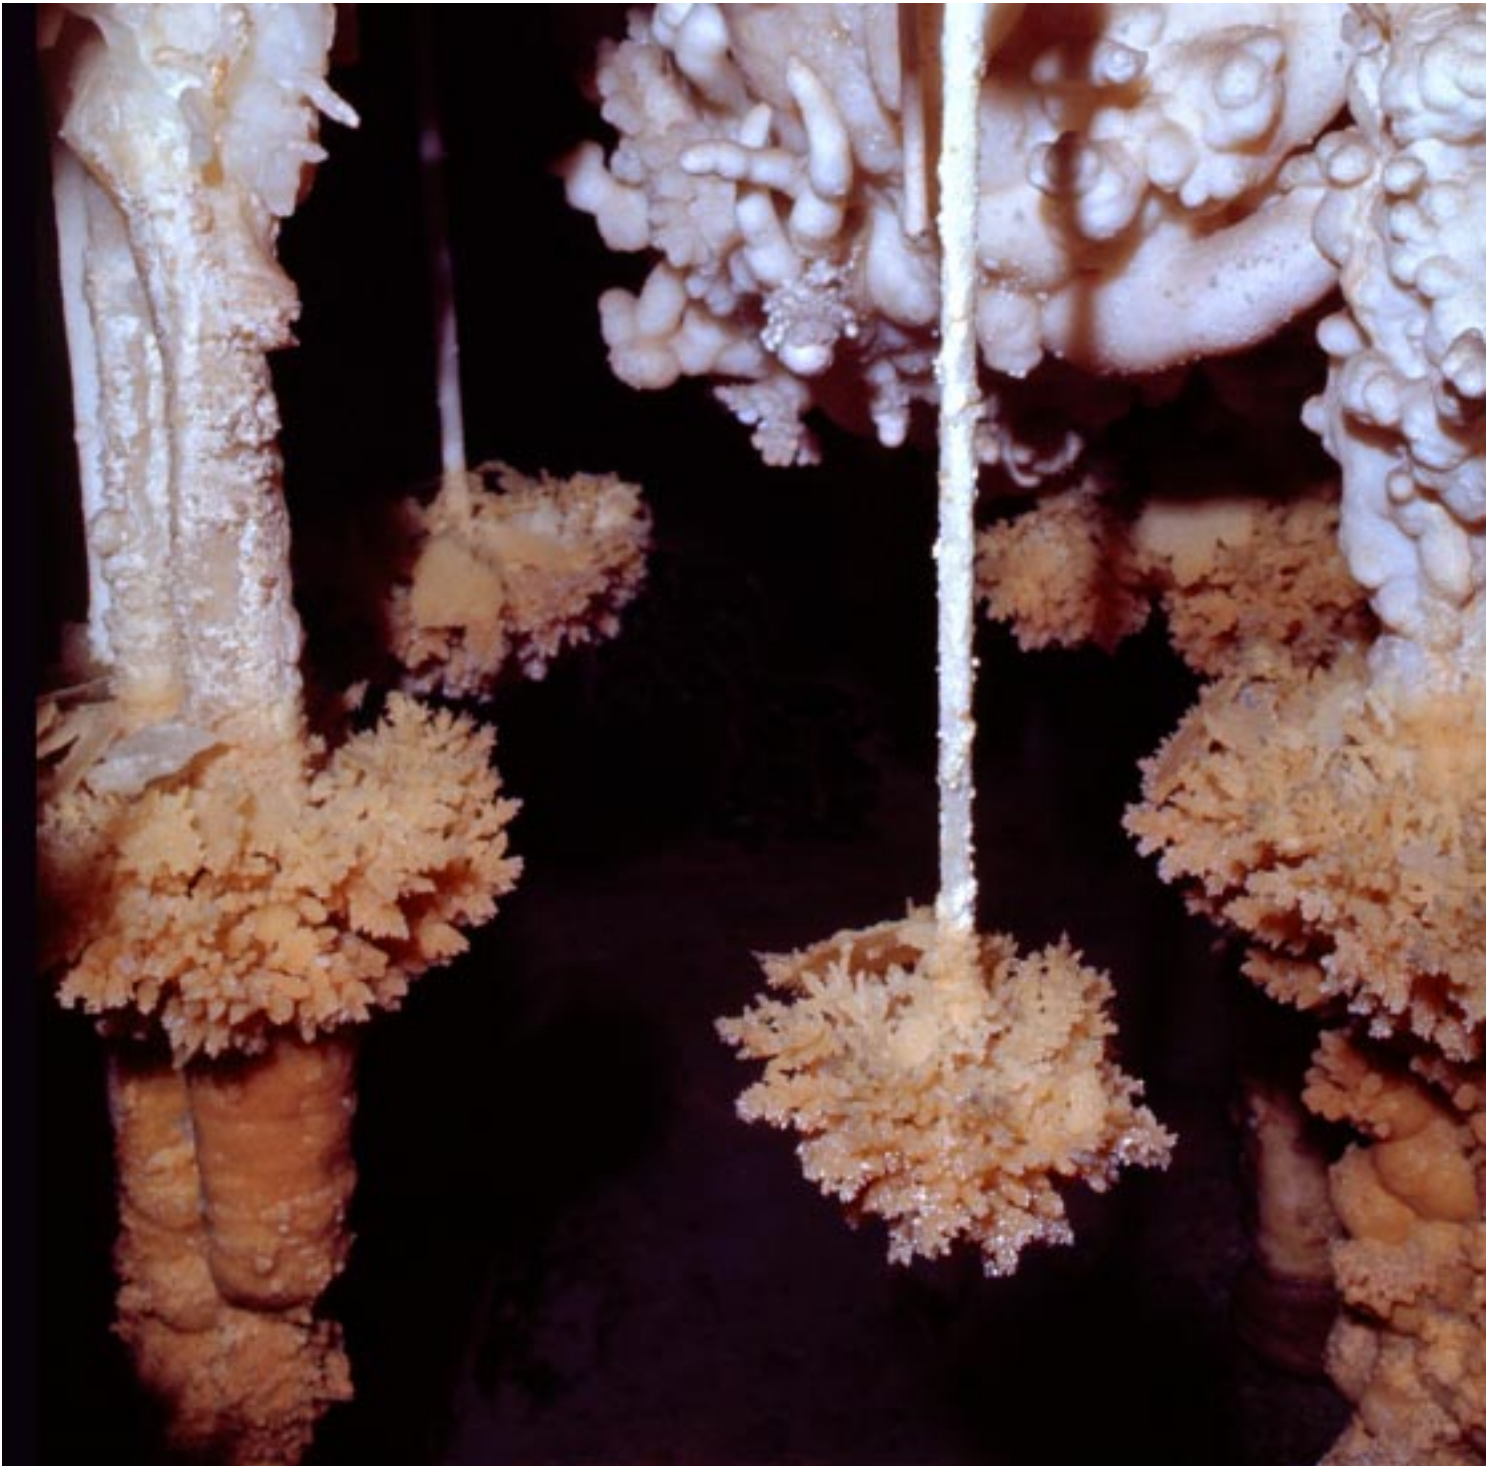

These lists are a subset of the full lists available on the TSS web site (www.utexas.edu/depts/tnhc/.www/tss/). Lengths and depths are in meters, rounded down. * = tie
